Inflation statement

As a result of the government announcement we have retained the inflation measure of RPIX. Our tuition fees policy states that "Fees are likely to increase between academic years. The upper limit the University may charge undergraduate full and part-time UK and EU students for their tuition fee is currently set by the Government. All other fees are set by the University. Where possible fee increases will be kept in line with forecast RPIX inflation for the academic year, although the University reserves the right to vary fees by any amount when business conditions, such as delivery costs, make such increases necessary
